

Fig. 1 Suppl. The graphical outline of the experiment. Potted olive plants were either grown outdoors under ambient temperature or transferred into a greenhouse for one, two, or three months during winter.

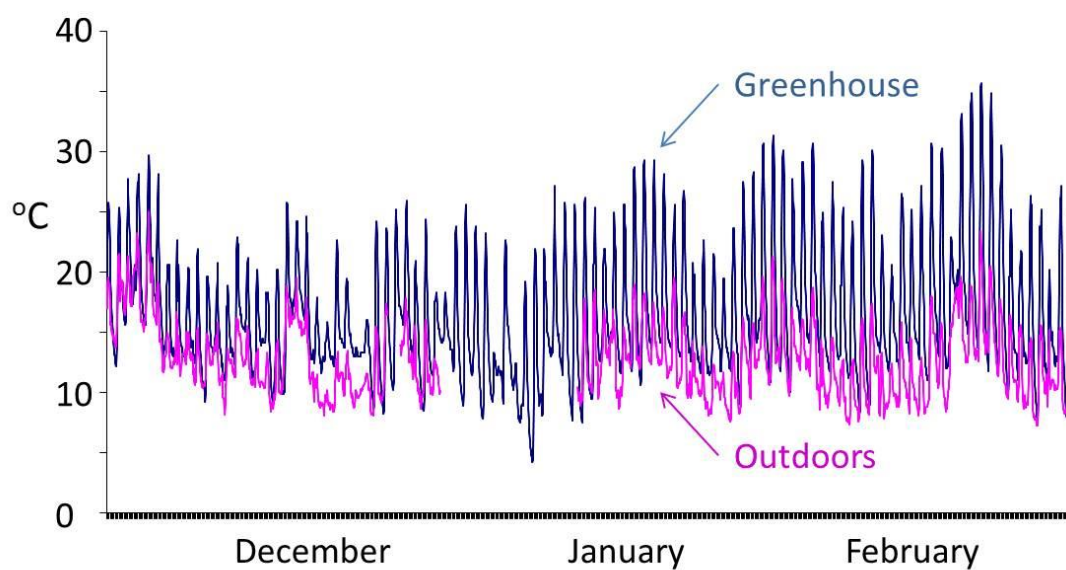

Fig. 2 Suppl. The course of air temperature during winter months inside a greenhouse and outdoors.